

HARVARD UNIVERSITY
CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
COOLIDGE HALL —INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

1737 CAMBRIDGE STREET

CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS 02138

January 26, 1981

Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

The Center for International Affairs is a research institution for advanced study of world problems by scholars from various disciplines and officials from numerous countries and international organizations. The Workshop Program at the Center conducts several conferences each year for senior level representatives from business, banking, government, labor, and the media who wish to broaden their professional understanding of various issues in the relationship between international economic and political affairs.

This spring programs will be presented on "Argentina: The Road Ahead," and "The Politics of the World Economy." Professor Jorge I. Dominguez has worked closely with Mr. Wenceslao Bunge and his associates in Buenos Aires to develop the program on Argentina, and Professor Raymond Vernon has organized the workshop on the world economy as he has done for the past six years. Brochures with application forms describing both of these programs are enclosed with this letter. It is stated in the brochures that the workshop fee is $1000 for the program on Argentina, and $2000 for the program on the world economy, however, representatives from the media, government and international agencies, and other non-profit organizations are offered reduced rates of $500 and $1000 respectively.

STATINTL

Most recently we enjoyed having Messrs. [REDACTED] participate in one of our programs, and hope that you will send representatives to the workshops this spring. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call me at (617)495-2644.

Sincerely,

Kate Gitlow
Workshop Program Manager

Enclosures